Attorney's Docket No.: 10559-430001 / P10444

REMARKS

The applicant thanks the examiner for the November 3, 2005, Examiner Interview, and acknowledges receipt of the Interview Summary.

In the October 3, 2005, Supplemental Notice of Allowability the examiner confirmed that claims 9, 11, 12, 14-18, 20, 21, 25-28 are allowed.

As discussed and agreed with the examiner during the November 3, 2005, Examiner Interview, applicant amended claims 15 and 21 to correct minor antecedent problems, amended claim 28 to correct a dependency problem, and added new claims 30-43, of which claims 30, 36, 39, and 41 are independent.

Independent claim 30 and its dependent claims 31-33 are companion computer-readable medium claims of allowed method claim 9, 11, 12, and 14, respectively. Claims 30-33 each recite similar features to the features recited respectively by allowed claims 9, 11, 12, and 14.

New claims 34 and 35 depend from allowed independent claim 18 (which is directed to a mobile-device). New claims 34 and 35 recite features similar to those recited in allowed claims 11, and 12, respectively.

New independent mobile device claim 36 recites features similar to those recited by allowed claim 18. New claims 37 and 38, which depend from new independent claim 36, recite features similar to those recited by allowed claims 11 and 12.

New claims 39 and 40 are directed to a proxy driver for a mobile device, and recite features similar to those recited by allowed home agent claims 20, and 21, respectively. Applicant notes that, as shown in FIG. 3, and as described in the originally filed application, the proxy driver is one of the programs contained in software module 56 of the home agent 24.

New claims 41-43 are directed to a communication system and recite features similar to those recited in allowed communication system claims 15-17.

No new matter has been added.

Applicant notes that the new claims were added for proper protection of applicant's invention. The new claims, reciting features already allowed by the examiner, require no additional search or examination.
